PREFACE

It is essential that all employees are provided with guidance in carrying out their duties. While it is not possible to anticipate every situation or to prescribe a course of action required for each case, this manual sets forth guidance to aid in your decision making. The exercise of discretion based on common sense, good judgment, training, supervision and the directives of the Department will determine your behavior.

This manual represents the manner in which Departmental employees will conduct themselves. Each employee is required to study it carefully, be fully aware of its contents and meaning and conform to its directives. This manual is to be kept current and available for your use and inspection by supervisors.

If any portion of this manual is held to be invalid or unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining sections.
